COMMENTS

W. J. Wright Entry Book 1871--1879

The entries in this book were made by a number of different individuals. Many names and words were spelled by sound. In some cases they were illegible. The handwriting had to be studied as to the particular individual's style in order to interpret the intention. Entries were copied "as is" then correctly set out in parentheses.

Having lived in Rensselaer all my life, just past 76, I recognized many of the family names and in some cases, can point out where they lived.

All names are listed alphabetically and do not necessarily mean that the person was deceased. Many entries were for payments made by living parties.

I believe that this might be of some help to genealogists in helping to trace the names in their families.
